SELF-SACRIFICE

FLY-HIGH

INDIA'S URGENT CRY FOR FOOD

AS A RULING POWER

NOTHING good, or great, or noble has ever been accomplished in this world without some sacrifice and considerable self-denial on somebody's part. For proof of this you have only to look around at the various struggles for righteousness which have been made since the world began. Do you think I am wrong? Both full of instances.

Foretold of Old

The Great Sacrifice itself we find foretold not only in the stories of the Old Testament, but in the ancient writings in the years before Christ was born, and among a people who did not recognize the true God.

The story of the great Buddha, whose teachings have spread throughout the world, is but a dim reflection of the aim, purpose, and life of Jesus Christ. He, too, left His Father's place and became a wanderer on the face of the earth in order to benefit mankind. Do you think I am wrong? He would have lived to-day if He had not chosen this life of self-denial, pain and loss? No, a thousand times no! He might have written and taught about the beauties and advantages of self-sacrifice. But unless He had practiced it Himself, His words would have been mere words, and consequently brought forth no results.

It has ever been so; it will ever be so. The world, which it enmeshes, will never be saved until the love that forgets itself in seeking to help its brother.

That is where it is—self-sacrifice, toil, work, labour: that is what saves. Take Him at His word: "I have told you that thou shalt Me?" "Yes, Lord; Thou knowest that I love Thee." "Feed My lambs."

Prove Your Love

Prove how much you love Me. It will not be easy work; for from Me you must bring forth much renown; it will take the place of much that is pleasant; and enjoyable. Do you love Me and your brethren in Me, enough to give up your life for such?

Upon a mountain looking the sea in a small village in Japan is raised a curious-looking shrine, or altar. Men bow the knee before it, and mothers bring their little and teach them to clasp their fat hands before it, and then when they are old enough to hear the story of the man who loved enough to become poor for the sake of his fellow-men.

Years ago he lived, but his memory is still kept green. He was a rich man, his lands were broad, and his rice-fields stretched away over the land. He lived in a house on the hill, which looked far out on the rolling sea; the village nestled under the hill almost on the seashore.

One day he saw, far, far out, the dread sign of one of those fearful tidal waves that sometimes sweep whole villages off the face of the earth. He knew he was safe, quite safe; nothing could harm him at the height he lived; but it was not for himself he thought, but for his neighbours beneath in such dire peril.

One Thing to Do

He shouted, and screamed, and tried to attract their attention; but in vain. He knew there was no time to go down and warn them; he knew just one thing to do, and without a moment's hesitation he did it. He took a light and set fire to his house and rice-fields, which were just waiting to be garnered. The blaze soon drew all eyes, and then, by signs, he made them see their peril. There was just time to fly to the hills before the huge wave demolished the village.

There were no lives lost; but the man?—he was a poor man and he died. As he lay on his deathbed, he said the highest type of a virtuous and good man, one who lost his life for his fellow-men, and he said: "I have told you that thou shalt Me?" "Yes, Lord; Thou knowest that I love Thee." "Feed My lambs."

There are a great many morals to the above little story, but the greatest of them all is love. The extent of our love will be proved by our willingness to deny ourselves for the good of others.

How much do you love? How do you regard the Week of Self-Denial?

Do you look upon it as another chance to extend the Kingdom and prove your love for God, or do you come to it unwillingly and grudgingly? These are questions to be seriously considered at present. Answering them will be a test as to the state of your soul and the quality of your Christianity. Only a healthy soul joys in self-sacrifice.

Dust, by its own nature, can only rise so far above the road; and birds, which fly higher, never live it upon their wings. So the heart escapes those little temptations which brood upon the earth but cannot rise above it.

"Take, therefore, no thought for the morrow; for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself."—Matt. VI, 34.

John Newton compared the world to a great bundle of faggots, far too heavy for them to carry. He said, "God does not require us to carry them all at once! He mercifully unties the bundle, and gives us just one stick, which we are to carry to-day, and then another, which we must carry to-morrow. This we can easily manage if we will only take the burden appointed for each day."

Some people increase their daily burdens by carrying yesterday's load over against today's, and adding to-morrow's load as well.

Manna, gathered as God gave it, was good; but, if hoarded, bred worms. Bless God, that we have, and trust God for what you need. If we cannot bring our condition to our mind we must bring our mind to our condition, and we have done this we shall always be discontented.

RESULT OF A WHISTLE

An Imperial soldier, who is also a Salvationist, told one of our Capetown hospital visitors of an experience he had. There was an elderly man amongst the soldiers. Comrade felt sure had once been saved. It was difficult, however, to tell. He had heard of a "whistle" happy idea of whistling the name "Southport," which is often sung to the words, "Nay, nay, I yield, I yield." Presently the soldier exclaimed, "My God!" and saw him rush past and into his tent. Another man came to our comrades and said, "I have heard of an old man," said he, "he is kneeling beside his bed weeping and praying."

HER TENTH

A League of Mercy worker in Toronto says that during Self-Denial she visited a certain Institution for the aged. There was an old man put seventy-five cents in her hand. She did not like to take it but the other insisted that she should.

"It is my tenth which I have promised to the Lord," she said. It appeared that out of the small amount given she had kept from time to time she had carefully put away a tenth and saved it up for just such an occasion.

If saved, and through death we escape to "mansions in glory," it will then be now; if unsaved, and death is the door to "eternal punishment," it will be the door to "eternal punishment."

Men are in a maze, and unsettled about the use of time; they try to get them to procrastinate or put off everything to the future, and God wants them to live in the now.

We live in the now; all we ever do is in the now, and death, the resurrection, the judgment, and Heaven and hell will be in the now.

DO IT NOW!

worthless by the multitude.

Men regret the past, and wish they could live it over again; they plan for the future, and dream of what they are going to do; they count the present as worthless and common, and depend upon the future.

Of all the countless ages of eternity, the only time we can count our own in the now.

Millions Faced With Famine—People Already Reduced to Pitiable Straits—How the Salvation Army Is Helping—A General Response to the Self-Denial Appeal Needed

"PLEASE appeal to the General to send more money to help our people at this time. Many are dying from want of food. Some of our European Officers cannot sleep at night because of the worry of things."

Call North Sympathies

So writes a Salvation Army Officer to Commissioner Lamb, and the pathetic plea should call the deepest sympathies of the entire Army on behalf of India's suffering millions. It is a generous response to the Self-Denial Fund. We have already indicated the seriousness and extent of the famine prevailing in India, and further reports received from International Headquarters throw fresh light on the situation and show that conditions are becoming more and more grave. The Bishop of Bombay, in addressing a public meeting in Bombay, said: "It is not a famine like those which have passed over this country; it is aggravated by pestilence. Let your hearts go out to these poor people. In another way also is an exceptional famine. There is not only a famine of grain and a famine of water, but there is a famine of clothes, and of many other necessities of life."

Much of the distress, is accentuated by the debilitating effects of the recent severe influenza epidemic, when, it is estimated, that the millions of people perished in British India alone. This will mean that millions more who have recovered from the "flu" are but in poor condition to resist the ravages of hunger.

In view of the drought, the wheat area is, according to Government reports, from twenty to thirty per cent. below that of last year in the most important wheat-growing districts. The wheat prices have risen even to the next harvest.

Brigadier Muthiah writes to say that in 1922, the year of the last severe famine, the cost of food was one rupee for twenty pounds. At present in this district only six pounds can be obtained for a rupee.

Desolated Villages

"It is a very sad sight," he says, "to see the villages in such a desolated condition, owing to large numbers of families leaving and going to other places in search of food."

They cannot get anything where they are because of the failure of the rains. In one village of twenty-five houses, only five are left open, but the poor people, although few in number, were very pleased to know that they were to be cared for by the Salvation Army. Wherever we go we hear the pitiable cry, "Help us in these hard days." We are trying our best to do so.

It will be understood, of course, that the population left in the villages consists of the old, feeble, and diseased, who are particularly in need of our help. The Brigadier also says that cattle, of which cost from sixty to eighty rupees a few months ago, are being sold for three and four paise each, as the people cannot afford to buy fodder for them.

Colonel Hira Singh (Hoe) writes from the Punjab: "We are passing through a most trying time, with prices at famine rates. The pressure on all sides has been, and is, most severe." From Brigadier Anand Singh (Tuley), Madras, we learn that "Prices of foodstuffs have risen with this loss of crops, and this has raised the passions of the people. The cost of clothing has doubled, and in some places, trebled. The most serious situation will have to be faced, and help on a large scale will have to be given to many of our people."

In Receipt of Relief

We understand from Government sources that there are now actually a quarter of a million people either in receipt of Government relief or in receipt of relief from the Government.

Lieut.-Colonel Halwant (Spooners) writes as follows from Gujarat: "I regret to say that the condition of the people and the cattle grows worse, and fear must continue to us. At present, it must be so with cattle in consequence of scarcity of fodder in any part of India. The Government and famine Committee have obtained all possible fodder and are striving to save working cattle, but young and milk cattle are dying by thousands. The situation in regard to humans is, of course, a little better, but the result of the consequence of the importation of grain resulting in the reduction of prices. But for the purchase of this, the poor people's savings will soon be exhausted, and then will come suffering on a large scale."

"The people suffering, the most at present are: 1. The very small farmers, who have nothing to depend upon. 2. The farm labourers. 3. The village sweepers."

"The three classes upon which they can grow or are paid in kind, and consequently in times of scarcity and famine are the first to suffer, and they suffer most throughout. The plight of those who live in the villages is most terrible. So much so, that one of my Divisional Officers,

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

Demonstrated by a Happening in the Island of Cebelles, in Which a Boy Trained in a Salvation Army School Outwits a Cheating Arabian Trader men had taken with them a boy who had just left the Salvation Army School upon the completion of his education. After a strenuous journey as well as a very heavy period of work in collecting these canes, the time had come when the great difficulty should be solved to one of the traders.

A Serious Council

"Before entering negotiations with this wily customer, the wise-heads of the party gathered together, and after serious council they decided first to count up how many canes they had collected, second to reckon from that—at the selling price of 50 cents each—what was the value of the lot. This was done, and to their astonishment they found that the value of the lot was only 20 cents."

The trader, with his usual brazen-faced audacity, tried to defraud the men—told him he didn't know what the value of money was—but the old man stood fast supported by his band of traders. "Clear out, I don't want your stuff—that is, the price and no more." The head of the party, who was a very old man, and there, within the sound of the rattling breakers, in the shelter of the jungle trees, around their camp fire, the great council of the traders met. He was going to sell, and seeking information for me the other day, found two families trying to exist on boiled hedge-leaves."

He had urged a village sanitation scheme for their employment and support, and the Government Collector of one of the large Districts in India has taken the matter up and is employing sweepers in every village in his District out of famine relief monies.

Utilize Unskilled Labour

Experience has proved that the indiscriminate handing out of doles is disastrous to the highest interests of the Dependency, and Commissioner Booth-Tucker has again and again brought to the notice of the Government of India schemes for the utilization of the labour of the unskilled.

In the present crisis a scheme for the cleansing of Indian villages has been proposed. This scheme has aroused considerable interest among men engaged in Indian native life, because it is the firm conviction of such that to support able-bodied men by famine doles is to do them of no service in Indian native life, but to make them into paupers. It is felt that it is better to employ them, and pay them a living wage from Relief Funds, even though their earnings are uncommensurate with the scheme. In addition, will bring about improved sanitary conditions which will lessen the possibility of epidemics and make for the better general health of all concerned.

Of course, the workers look for payment, and while the main responsibility for the relief of famine is uncommensurate with the scheme, India, there is important subsidiary work which must be carried out by those in close touch with the needs. Herein lies the Salvation Army's problem!

Help Us to Help Them

By giving generously to the Self-Denial Fund one will be helping our countrymen to succeed. These poor people, whose great need is surely appeal to Christians. God has blessed our land with plenty, and we should feel that we are bound to help those who are in such dire want and peril. The cry of India's starving millions should move our hearts.

Let us all contribute generously to the Self-Denial Fund. Every dollar you give will help to save some one from dying of hunger, and also help to carry the glorious news of Salvation to those who live in the darkness and gloom of a spiritual famine worse than that of food.

They called in the ex-school boy: "Well boy, now you know these figures you gave us are correct? So many thousand canes at 50 cents each—shouldn't it be as much as you say?" "Yes, yes," the boy answered, and looked at them again, studied them for a moment or two, and then said: "Yes sir, it is quite correct."

"Well, yes," the boy answered, and they are not, he won't buy the stuff—won't give the money we ask, what are we to do?" A bright idea crossed the boy's mind. He took a piece of paper and sent a messenger with a letter home to the Government Assistant of our district, and let us ask him if it is right and when we get the answer back we can force the trader to pay us the amount due for the canes we have gathered.

Gathered Around Fire

"It was agreed that this was a good idea, and should be put into effect. The trader, who was the scene—in the darkness of the night, the men gathered round the camp fire, and with their hands and croaking frogs joining in their song around them, not even disturbed by the myriads of mosquitos in their anxiety, sat and waited for the development. After the witnesses

KINGSTON YOUNG PEOPLE

Enjoy Interesting and Helpful Meetings Led by Divisional Young People's Secretary

Adjutant and Mrs. Burton conducted Easter week-end meetings with the Young People of Kingston. The first gathering took place at 7 p.m. (next drill), where there was an attendance of 54 including the Young People's Band and Singing Brigade. At 10 a.m. an open-air meeting was held at which about sixty-five Young People and their workers took part and great interest was shown by the people who came to the windows and doors to listen to the singing and testimonies. There was an attendance of one hundred and seventy at the company meeting with every guard present. The Primary includes Cradle Roll, Infants' and Beginners' Classes. Mrs. Burton was in her den while teaching the Sand Tray lesson. At the Young People's Salvation meeting at 6:30 over one hundred Young People turned out and six sought the Saviour.

The Senior meeting on Sunday night was a great victory, twenty-two souls knelt at the altar, several of whom were Young People. On Monday from 5 to 6:30 p.m. a Social time was spent in the Drill Hall. A supper followed at which over two hundred were present. A very enthusiastic and inspiring meeting was afterwards held and with uplifted hands we sang together "I'll be true dear Lord to Thee." Following this came a council with the Young People's workers.

Sergeant-Major Hunter and his staff of workers are alive to their opportunities and with the guidance of such devoted officers as Adjutant and Mrs. Smith are in for making Kingston a model Young People's Corps.

HALLELUJAH WEDDING

Conducted at North Toronto by Lieutenant-Colonel Bell

On Tuesday, April 23rd, Treasurer Oxley and Bandsman W. Bradshaw were united in marriage by Lieutenant-Colonel Bell. The evening was one full of enjoyment and at the close of the ceremony a banquet was served in the Young People's Hall.

The Band and Songsters assisted with music and song and a duet was sung by Songster Secretary Jessie Bain and Cadet T. Oxley. Messages of congratulations were read by the "best man," and to top the service the bridegroom gave a very interesting speech.

The Hall was nicely decorated. —R. Wass, Corps Correspondent.

ed by Staff-Captain Smith and the Officers stationed in the city. The Band was out early on Sunday morning for a march. Adjutant Johnstone spoke in the Holiness meeting and two young men came forward for consecration. One has signed Candidate's papers. The Corps attended a great memorial meeting in the McDougal Auditorium in the afternoon. Brigadier represented the Army on the platform and the Citadel Band led the singing. The Salvation meeting at night resulted in four persons seeking pardon.

NEW GLASGOW

Comrade Welcomed Home From Overseas

On Monday night we held a united welcome meeting at New Glasgow to Brother Harry Baigent, just returned from having spent four years overseas.

Our Comrade had a glowing testimony of how the Lord had kept him right. Ensign Mercer, of Westville, spoke words of welcome, also Sergeant-Major Scott on behalf of the Corps. All the Officers of the Pictou County Corps were present. The meeting was brought to a glorious finish with four souls at the Mercy Seat.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S BAND

Of Fernie Corps Visits Hosmer and Gives Musical Festival

Brigadier McLean recently visited Fernie. The Young People's Band gave a musical programme. The Brigadier presided and gave a short address.

The following evening the Officers, with the Band, boarded the train for Hosmer, a little town some miles outside of the city. The schoolroom was nicely fitted up for the occasion. The Band rendered up upon music. Mr. Alderton, an old friend of the Army, presided. "Mr. Norman gave a brief address on India where he had spent a number of years as a missionary."

umph. Throughout the week-end some thirty Comrades reported having smashed their targets, this including a number of Comrades who never collected before and it was an inspiration to listen to them report how God, through prayer, enabled them to take their prizes from the door to door. The Young People's Sergeant-Major and his fine Band of Company Guards have already smashed their Spiritual Targets, the greater part of the Senior Band have their flags flying and the others do not intend being behind. Service work is being done as usual, is working hard and hopes to surmount every obstacle and reach his target.

On Sunday morning Mrs. Ensign Snowden gave an inspiring address on "The Reward of Obedience." The Young People present were particularly helped. The afternoon service took the form of a musicale, the Band under Bandsman Martin (who was welcomed home during the week-end) taking a leading part. Bandsman Brown gave a helpful Bible lesson. At night Ensign Snowden spoke on "A Great Discovery," much conviction followed and during a red-hot prayer meeting conducted by Sergeant-Major Bradley, one soul knelt at the Mercy Seat.

ANOTHER VICTORY

Eleven Seekers at Saskatoon II

Captain "Etta Scott," Officer in charge of Saskatoon II Corps, assisted by Captain H. R. Gray, who is doing his duty in the city, and Sister Mrs. Malyon of North Battleford, formerly Adjutant-Magee, conducted stirring meetings on Easter Sunday.

From knee-deep "until the final wind-up" at night the Comrades fought valiantly for the extension of God's Kingdom, and were rejoicing in seeing six adults and five children kneeling at the Mercy Seat. Saskatoon No. 2 Corps was opened up about three months ago by Captain Scott, who, by her faithful and untiring efforts, has made wonderful progress both in the Senior and Junior divisions.

BROCKVILLE SOLDIERS

Given a Banquet by the Salvation Army—Two Hundred Men and Their Wives Present

A number of returned men and their wives were tendered a banquet on Saturday, April 26th, at the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G. W. V. A. assisting the Salvation Army to raise the Number 10 Corps Band and Songsters. Two hundred were present. The Hall was decorated with flags and flowers and presented a very inviting appearance. Following this a public meeting was held at which the Rev. Hamilton presided. "Hallelujah Rock" was the special speaker and held the attention of the crowd with his thrilling life story. A local paper, in reporting the event said: "Rocky is sprightly and full of fire. He goes straight to the point."

Over thirty persons stood up to consecrate themselves to God's service.

On Sunday "Rocky" led the meetings in the Army Hall. God's word was extended to Brother and Sister Knox from Edson, Alberta. They are old Salvationists from Lethbridge, Scotland.

The week-end revival meeting Mrs. Adjutant Hamilton assisted by Local Officers, were much inspired by the Young People's testimonies. The jail service, under Adjutant and Brother and Sister Knox conducted, was bright and profitable to the prisoners.

LIFE-SAVING SCOUTS

Receive Proficiency Badges at Orlia—A Bugle Band is Formed

At the Salvation Army Citadel on Thursday, April 24th, the Life-Saving Scouts and Guards gave a very interesting programme. A good crowd came to the hall to hear the songs, duets, and drills, and the G. W. V. A. for their part, Secretary Smith of the G. W. V. A. presented a drum to the Scouts, which they have just bought. The band was receiving their proficiency badges to Guards and Scouts who have just completed another year in the service.

Ten Proficiency Badges were awarded to the Scouts. Scout Leader W. Wilson presided, the Plumbers, Handicraft, and Pathfinders of the Gardeners' Badges. The camp fire scenes at the end were enjoyed by all.

NINETEEN SEEKERS

Knelt at the Mercy Seat at North Bay

God came very near to us on Sunday, April 20th. There were thirteen at the Mercy Seat. Twelve of them were backsliders, and were brought back to the Lord by the S. O. E. B. S. attending the meeting on Sunday last for their annual service, and a good address was delivered by Captain Blaney. The close of the service was a wonderful triumph. These are all true and true, and they will make our meetings more successful.

Enjoy a Banquet and Musicals in the New Hall—Two Hundred Men and Wives Present

A Banquet for our returned Comrades took place at Hamilton Three Citadel recently. Nearly two hundred men and their wives, and in many instances their children, were present. The women of the various Home Leagues of Hamilton, and Dundas filled the Hall.

The proceedings were under the direction of Mrs. Lieutenant-Colonel Chandler, who was assisted by Mrs. Ensign Barclay. The guest of the evening was Major M. G. of the Army's Chaplains, and he certainly was accorded a warm welcome. His description of life overseas and the kindly and helpful way the boys appreciated the socks sent over took on immensely. The musicale that followed, given by the Number 10 Corps Band and Songsters, was presided over by Lieutenant-Colonel Chandler, and judging by the applause that each met with it was evident that it was enjoyed by one and all.

Comrades still overseas were remembered in prayer and the loved ones of those who had fallen were tenderly referred to—David McAmmond, Chancellor.

GOOD TIMES

In the Meetings at Lethbridge

On Sunday, April 6th, a hearty welcome was extended to Brother and Sister Knox from Edson, Alberta. They are old Salvationists from Lethbridge, Scotland.

The week-end revival meeting Mrs. Adjutant Hamilton assisted by Local Officers, were much inspired by the Young People's testimonies.

The jail service, under Adjutant and Brother and Sister Knox conducted, was bright and profitable to the prisoners.

One soul sought sanctification in the holiness meeting. At the jail service, over twenty hands were up for prayer. At night one young woman came out for Salvation.—H. D.

EARLSCOURT

Candidates Took Charge of Meeting

Special endeavours are being made at Earlscourt to reach the people. The Candidates took charge on Saturday night. Much Spiritual Warfare was received at the meeting and a number raised their hands requesting the prayers of God's people.

Ten Salvation meeting conducted by Captain and Mrs. Parsons proved very profitable and two souls sought God.—I. R. B.

NIAGARA FALLS

We are having some real blessed times in our Corps. On Sunday, April 6th, three children knelt at the Penitent Form, and on April 13th in our night meeting we had the joy of seeing four of our Young People come out for Full Salvation.

Captain and Mrs. Cubitt are our Officers.

AMHERST

On Sunday, April 13th, Adjutant Hard led the meetings, assisted by Captain McFadden. Seven seekers knelt at the Penitent Form. Mrs. White was our Officer.

A Great Event at the Hamilton I. Citadel—Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler in Charge

Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler conducted a great commissioning of Locals at the Hamilton I. Citadel on Thursday, May 1st. It was certainly a great event. A good crowd gathered to take part in this special meeting.

Adjutant Poole led in prayer. Bandsman Bramwell, who has recently returned from overseas, read the Scripture lesson. The Bandsmen were then commissioned, also the Young People's Band. The Songsters were commissioned after which they sang a beautiful song entitled "Thanks be to you." Then followed the commissioning of the Young People's and Senior Locals. The League of Mercy, which by the way, does an excellent work in the various institutions such as Jail, Hospitals, etc., was also commissioned. Totalling in all about twenty-five persons were also commissioned. It is quite evident that Hamilton I. is well organized and the outlook for the future certainly is bright.

BANQUET FOR SOLDIERS

And Their Wives is Held at Parliament Street Corps

We are having good times at Parliament street. Recently we had a supper for returned soldiers and their wives. About one hundred sat down. After supper a musical programme was given by Ensign Laurie and other Officers. Major Southall presided.

Each credit is due to Captain Elery and Lieutenant Gage and all who helped to make the evening enjoyable.

On Sunday, April 20th, Brigadier Barr led the meetings and on the following Sunday he had Captain and Mrs. Porter with us. An excellent Life-Saving Scouts took place in the afternoon and we rejoiced over four souls at night.

ELMWOOD

On Sunday, April 27th, Brigadier and Mrs. Phillips conducted the meeting at Elmwood. Mrs. Colonel Turner also paid a visit and her words were greatly appreciated.

Brigadier Phillips gripped the audience with a telling address. A number of new persons were present. Captain and Mrs. McEachern are still leading us on.—A. P.

CHESTER

We are now holding Holiness meetings every Friday night. The opening meeting of the series was conducted by Major McDwan of the Training College, assisted by Captain Sharp. Nearly 200 were present and every one received a great uplift.

Large Corps Listens to Open-Air Service—Good Attendance at Service in Theatre

The people of Grande Prairie were made aware of the fact that the Army had come to town to stay when Captain Gain and Lieutenant Neilson held their first open-air service at the theatre. A good crowd gathered to take part in this special meeting.

On Sunday, April 20th, the first indoor service was held in the Grand Theatre. It was well filled and the way in which the people joined in the singing was very encouraging. Many were deeply convicted and many were the tears that flowed down their faces as they listened to the pleadings to surrender themselves to their God. Although none came forward we believe God is going to give us souls in this town.

A small quarters has been secured and a hall (usually used as a club room) which will serve our purpose for a while till we can get a hall of our own. Now the talk of the town is "The Salvation Army has come to stay."

FOUR NEW SOLDIERS

Are Enrolled at Lansdowne Corps Locals Commissioned by Divisional Commander

The week-end meetings at Lansdowne (April 26-27) were led by the Corps Officers, Ensign Mabb and Lieutenant Evans and were full of interest and blessing. At night four Comrades were enrolled as Soldiers, including one returned man.

On Thursday, May 1st, Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Orway visited the Corps to launch the Self-Denial Effort and to commission the Local Officers. The Band is getting along nicely and is creating much interest in the open-air meetings.

Mrs. Brigadier Green, assisted by Captain and Mrs. Moss, conducted the meetings on Sunday, May 4th. There were four seekers.

KNELT ON OVERCOAT

In the Wet Street and Cried to God for Salvation

At Toronto I we are being greatly blessed. Captain and Mrs. Courtis are helping the Comrades to obtain and keep the experience of Holiness.

On Sunday evening, May 4th, while the open-air was in progress, and auto stopped near a man got out who was under the influence of drink. He was in great anguish of soul. A Comrade spoke to him about giving himself to Jesus at once. An overcoat was thrown on the wet road at the drum-head upon which he knelt and with tears and sobs he gave his name and address before departing.

At the inside-service which was conducted by Brigadier Morris, one brother and one sister were enrolled as the Penitent Form (Affirmation) Comrades Correspondent.

HOME LEAGUE NOTES

Mrs. Lieutenant-Colonel Chandler, who has just returned from a trip around the Hamilton Division, reports a magnificent advance in Home League membership and attendance. Almost fifty women were present on the occasion of her visit to Galt. One very favorable fact is that so many of them were outside women. The Officer, Adjutant Raymer, said that many of those present had never been to any Army meeting until joining the League.

Women's Part in Self-Denial

Brave Collectors Who Have Won Their Way Into the Hearts of the Public—They Cheerfully Face All Sorts of Weather and Risk Jeers of Thoughtless in Order that Heavens May Be Saved.

THERE are a good many things which women can do better than men, and among these we must include Self-Denial collecting. To a large extent it is due to the women that Self-Denial is so popular with fell asleep and dreamed she was in a large city. She thought she saw a number of children, who were crying. On asking them why they were crying, they said that because a young People's Sergeant-Major in grace and Salvation have been won. Further, pray. Be encouraged by the blessings you have received in the past to ask for larger things. I am sure God is willing and able to do far greater things for every Officer and Soldier than have ever been done before. I have even our afflictions and death to serve the interests of His cause. It is only a question of our devotion, prayer, and faith. And lastly, give. Crown your praise and prayers by bringing more abundantly to the Lord's treasury but were quite regular in their attendance.

The Thrift Club in connection with the League is in a flourishing condition. There is a splendid staff of Local Officers who lay themselves out to help the women. They are Secretary Gooding, Assistant Secretary Thomas, Treasurer Hall and Chaplain Mrs. Bailey. It was very gratifying to find that the personal interest that the women themselves take causes them to bring along their children with them, quite a crowd being present in the adjoining room. A heart to heart talk on lines that could not but help to bring forth fruit seemed to be very much appreciated. It was with regret that Mrs. Raymer was not able to be present through illness.

The Bellevue Home League members have been busy sewing and knitting for a sale of work.

We also remembered our local address soldier boys. Sergeant McGlashin is in Kingston Hospital with a diseased bone in one leg and has broken his other leg. May soon be restored.

Private Churchill is in Toronto Hospital. He had meningitis and his speech which is just now returning to him a little. We sent them both a box of chocolates. We have several soldier lads home who whose parents are Salvationists.

We are expecting a big time at our welcome tea for the returned boys and their wives. We hope to make them feel we appreciate their services.

We expect the rest of our Band boys home in a few weeks, and we will be glad to see them all.—Mrs. Millie-Burke, Home League Correspondent.

The Grand Falls (Nfld.) Home League recently held a sale of work and over three hundred dollars was realized. The League was only organized at this Corps a few months ago by Mrs. Commandant Hiseock, but already numbers twenty-eight members.

the general public. People say it is brave of the women to stand in the streets with their boxes 'for Jesus' to trudge through all sorts of weather from door to door that the homeless may be sheltered; or to risk the jeers of the thoughtless that lonely hearts may be comforted. "God bless the Army women," says the public, and drops its donation into the hungry box.

Truly the Army womenfolk have much reason for congratulation at Self-Denial time, and the thought of victories won will encourage them after some stinging rebuff.

Takes Much Grace

Yet it is quite probable that some of our sisters may be feeling a wee bit discouraged. It takes a good deal of grace to work a whole street of houses, get small donations, and return home with a cheerful countenance. It also requires nerve, faith, and wisdom to take your stand in the morning at the exact spot where, the day before, you "told all day and caught nothing"—but a cold!

But a thousand voices cry, "Don't give up! Keep believing, praying, working, and God will give you the victory."

So much depends on your faithfulness and endurance. There are millions of heathen whose only hope lies in the self-denial of people who owe their peace of mind and joy of heart to the love and sacrifice of the Saviour of whom their benighted brothers and sisters have never heard. Think of all these when you knock at the next door.

A Young People's Sergeant-Major one year got discouraged, and decided to do nothing for the Self-Denial Fund, and on the Wednesday before Self-Denial Week went to visit a Soldier who was also feeling "down in the dumps."

While there the Sergeant-Major the Army were not collecting for Self-Denial they had to go hungry. In the act of confessing that she was one of those who had not worked, she awoke and told her Comrade of her dream, and they made up their minds that whatever happened they must do their duty. That day their target was nearly doubled.

Perhaps there are others who sometimes feel like this dear Comrade. Think of the need of India's famine stricken millions this year, and resolve to go out and do your best to save them from starvation—both physical and spiritual.

In writing of women's part in Self-Denial we can never forget our sainted Army Mother, who has inspired so many of our women with her own dauntless spirit.

This is part of the stirring Self-Denial message she sent to her comrades through the War Cry as she lay dying.

"To my Comrades all round the world I would say, above all else, keep your own hearts right with God."

"Regard not opposition, persecution, or misrepresentation. Fear not what man can do unto you. Through tribulations and afflictions, and difficulties, and deaths, you shall be brought off more than conquerors, with thousands and tens of thousands of sinners saved through your self-denying labours. I shall meet you in the Heavenly city, where pain and parting shall be no more."

Practical Effect

Now, I want you to give all the practical effect you can to these feelings during the coming week.

Give thanks. Praise God for all He has accomplished through the instrumentality of the Army since our last Self-Denial week. What untold victories have been scored, and what uncountable trophies of such things as you possess, and by denying yourselves of whatever you can do without, in order to replenish the War Chest, and hasten the speed of the Chariot of Salvation to multitudes who still sit in darkness and the shadow of death. This shall your prayers be answered, and God, even our own God, shall abundantly bless us.

HELP TO THE CORPS

Home League Sale of Work at Saskatoon is a Great Success

The Saskatoon Home League is proving of great value to the Corps. We have been as busy as bees since our re-opening last January, and the outcome of our sale of work on the 10th of April was magnificent.

The sale was opened by Mr. Commandant Hoddinott, and was conducted throughout the afternoon and evening. We had a running table, under the direction of Sister Mrs. Greenhaugh, which brought in nearly $16; the sewing and needlework counter, in charge of Sisters Hulme and Evers realized about $95. The home cooking also sold well. On former occasions we have sold tickets for the Band Festival, which always took place after the sale, but this time we sold no tickets, and realized more than at any other time.

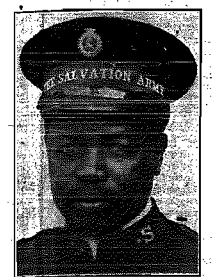

The evening's short musical programme was rendered, which was appreciated by all. At the close of the programme was a clear cream and cake counter was attacked, and kept every one busy for some time. From this source we took in about $22, making in all a net income of $135, in addition to what we received, from a society at Quil Lake; a cheque for $35, to be paid for work done.

The Home League is assisting in refurnishing the Quarters, and is also supplying the Primary Class with Kiva-two Kindergarten chairs. We are also very much interested in the Soldiers wives and relatives returning from overseas.

See every war baby and child in every war baby.

SOUTH AFRICA

ENGLAND, IRELAND AND WALES

The English command comprises twenty-three Divisions, with 932 Corps and Outposts. The Officers and employees number 2,566; the Senior Local Officers, 19,448; the Young People's Local Officers, 15,357; and the Bandmen, 13,820.

Ireland and Wales were made Sub-Territories in 1918. They have 33 and 21 Corps respectively.

Mrs. General Booth is the British Commissioner.

SCOTLAND

The Army's work was commenced in Edinburgh in 1869. It steadily increased until now there are 131 Corps and Societies. It was created a new Territory in 1917 with Acting-Commissioner Hoggar as the Territorial Commander.

UNITED STATES

This Territory, under Commander Eva Booth, comprises the whole of the States in the Union, including the Hawaiian Islands, but for the purposes of efficient oversight is divided into two departments—Eastern and Western. Commissioner Ogrin is the Territorial Commander. There are 972 Corps and Outposts and 3,708 Officers and employees. The Social Institutions number 381.

CANADA EAST

This command comprises the Newfoundland Province and seven Divisions. There are 147 Corps and Outposts and 967 Officers and employees. The Local Officers number 3,672. Commissioner Richards is the Territorial Commander.

CANADA WEST

There are 128 Corps and Outposts in this command, and the Officers and employees number 322. Commissioner Swanton is the Territorial Commander. A good work is in progress among the Indians of British Columbia and Alaska.

JAPAN

This Territory comprises the Islands of the Empire and the Liao Tung Peninsula. Operations were begun in 1895. An interesting feature of the work is the raising of Japanese Officers. All the Divisional, Sectional, Corps and Social Officers are Japanese. The Salvation Army is held in high esteem by the Government authorities. There are 106 Corps and Outposts and 217 Officers and employees. Acting-Commissioner De Groot is the Territorial Commander.

WEST INDIES

This Territory is a very scattered one consisting of the Islands of the West Indies, the Colonies of British Guiana and British Honduras and the Republics of Panama and Costa Rica. During 1918 the work was extended to Spanish Honduras, Cuba and the Virgin Islands. There is a good work in progress among the East Indian labourers employed on the Demerara sugar plantations and the Chinese in Georgetown, British Guiana. The number of Corps and Outposts is 122. Colonel Bullard is the Territorial Commander.

SWEDEN

Our work is regarded with feelings of genuine sympathy by all classes in this country, from the King and Queen to the humblest subject. A number of Officers are set apart for missionary work among the wandering Lapps. Deaf and dumb Corps are also in operation in which the Officers conduct their meetings by means of the manual alphabet. There are 906 Corps and Outposts, 1,213 Officers and employees and 66 Social Institutions. Commissioner Ogrin is the Territorial Commander.

INDIA AND CEYLON

The Army's work commenced here in 1882. There are now 280 European Missionary Officers, 2,539 Indian Officers, Teachers and employees and 5,463 Envoys and Local Officers.

The purely Missionary work comprises 3,391 Corps and Outposts. The number of Soldiers and adherents has more than doubled in the last six years.

This great country, for Army purposes, is divided into nine Territories, all under the command of Commissioner Booth Tucker. The total number of Training, Educational, Industrial and Agricultural Institutions is 668 and the number of persons cared for in these is 27,723. Our medical work includes Hospitals and Dispensaries.

BURMA

The work of the Army in this country is at present limited to the city of Rangoon, where we have a Corps, a Woman's Industrial Home, and a Home for youthful released prisoners. An encouraging commencement has been made.

AUSTRALIA

Planted in the city of Adelaide in 1881 the Army flag has been carried steadily forward, until to-day there are but few parts of the great Island Continent where the Organization is not known and respected. Official recognition of the Army is full and generous in all the States of the Commonwealth, and authorities avail themselves largely of the Army's assistance in dealing with various social problems. An interesting feature of the many sided work under Commissioner Hay's direction is the People's Palace or Hotel. These Institutions are now established in the principal centres of population. The Corps and Outposts number 1,271, and there are 1,974 Officers and employees.

NEW ZEALAND

The activities of the Army in this country have so deeply impressed the public that in proportion to the population New Zealand makes the highest contribution to the Self-Denial Fund in the world. The Soldier's work embraces a wide field of effort and includes unique features. For instance, for the treatment of leprosy two island Colonies have been established at Auckland. There are 267 Corps and Outposts and 557 Officers and employees. Commissioner Holder is the Territorial Commander.

NORWAY

Salvation Army operations were commenced in 1888. The Corps' work is now firmly established in every city, and a great number of smaller centres in the country. The Outpost work done by the Corps Officers has its special significance for the spread of Salvation, since a large proportion of the population is outside of the cities. Good work is done by means of the Salvation life boat "Catharine Booth." In one year she drew to land 140 sailing boats which were in danger, thus rescuing 391 men. Colonel Palmer is the Territorial Commander.

SOUTH AMERICA

This command consists of the Republics of Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, Peru, and Paraguay. Apart from the Army's hegemony over the inhabitants of South America are largely composed of immigrants from the Latin countries of Europe. The Army has begun work here in 1889 and has successfully overcome many difficulties, until to-day it is firmly established. There are 120 Corps and Outposts, 201 Officers and employees and 51 Social Institutions. The Territorial Commander is Colonel Palmer.

CHINA

The Army's work is now well established in North China in the two important Provinces of Chihli and Shantung. Many of our Officers are women and they find a wide scope amongst those of their own sex and the children. The Chinese War Cry is having a good circulation. Eleven Corps are now in operation. Commissioner Jeffries is the Territorial Commander.

SOUTH AFRICA

The Army opened fire in 1883 and is now working in the States of the Union of South Africa, Zambesi, Rhodesia and the Island of St. Helena, and comprises the White, Native and Social work. Seven Industrial Homes for women are now in operation with accommodation for 143. There are nine Men's Sheltering Institute for Native Officers has recently been opened. Forty-four schools and three farms are in operation. Much has been done to convert the heathen natives to Christianity. Missionary posts have been established. Commissioner Edie is the Territorial Commander.

FRANCE

The Pioneer Officers fought amid the bitterest persecution to plant the Army flag in this country; to-day the Army is recognized and appreciated by the authorities and the public generally. A special feature under Colonel Peyron, the Territorial Commander, is a series of Salvation Campaigns lasting for a week to eight days. Numbers of converts are being made and many new Soldiers enrolled. There are 69 Corps and Outposts and 120 Officers and employees.

JOURNEYING TO INDIA

An Interesting Letter From Mrs. Adjutant Tyndall

Writing from India, Mrs. Adjutant Tyndall gives an interesting account of the voyage thither. It will be remembered that the conditions of travel at the time she and the Adjutant left, made it necessary for them to go via Japan, Hong Kong and Singapore. Concerning the few days spent in the first-named country Mrs. Tyndall says:

Lieutenant-Colonel Beaumont took us home and made us very happy. Each day Adjutant and I were given a chance of a boat, but each day came back with the same old story, "All right!" We had a very good time and as Canada did not forget us. Snow was on the ground and it was bitter cold.

The people and the country are most picturesque, and the land very cultivated with rice and vegetables. They eat fish of all kinds, raw and cooked. I had a real Japanese meal and ate with chop sticks; it is quite a job to assure you. The temples are very interesting, though I was puzzled to see poor women and children touching the goddess of health, trying to get restored in that way. I should think it would go away with more disease than they had, for they all touched the image, and all had some sickness. The streets were very prettily decorated for Christmas and New Year.

At last they got away on a Japanese ship, and concerning the return journey Mrs. Tyndall writes:

"We called at Shanghai, which is a very fine city, and at Hong Kong, where we had a very good time. From here we had to tranship again. From here we had a very nice trip on a British-India boat which only carried twenty European passengers. There were, however, 1,300 Indians crowded all over the Third Class decks. It was awful to see the poor creatures, and I was glad to get to stretch their legs at night. They were returning from the Malay Straits, where they had been working for three years. Two of them went mad on the way."

Our comrades have been appointed to the staff of the T. S. C. an important institution which is playing a large part in assisting in the industrial education of the poorer natives.

FROM MILITARY MEN AS TO THE SALVATION ARMY HOSTELS

The following note was handed to one of the helpers at the Kingston Hostel by a military officer: "I wish to say that I have thoroughly enjoyed my short stay at your Hostel. I appreciate the good work that the Salvation Army has done for the boys both overseas and in Canada."

This is what a Corporal wrote concerning the Toronto Hostel: "I have obtained my discharge and am leaving the city to go home. I want to take off my hat to the Salvation Army for the good work they have done for me. I have been here three months ago. I have written to my mother several times that you people could be kinder to me than they are. When I get home I will tell all the people just how you have treated me."

You know I am a Catholic, but you have made no difference with me, but every one, both in the office and the dining room, made me welcome and I sure appreciate your kindness."

With a hearty God bless you and thanks again, Corporal Jean Sauroit said good-bye to the Salvation Army Hostel.

WON MILITARY MEDAL

And Also Did His Best to Win Souza For God

Sergeant Mark Cordy, who was Deputy Bandmaster at New Aberdeen before his enlistment, has now returned after three years military service to an English Battalion in February, 1915, and was drafted to the Princess Pats. He was wounded at the battle of the Somme, and again in August, 1918, in operations before Amiens. For his exploits on this occasion he received the Military Medal.

He has returned to his old profession while overseas and often had talks to his comrades about spiritual matters. He had good results in the calmer meetings, and he could attend them, both in England and in France. The Salvation Army has made many friends by its work over there, he says.

Our comrade comes of a Salvation Army family; his father having been a Local Officer, for the past thirty years.

AT CANADIAN CONCENTRATION CAMP AT RHYL ARE APPRECIATED

A Salvation Army Bandman of the Vancouver I. Corps, who is now at Kinnel Park Camp, North Wales, recently sent the following letter to Mrs. Brigadier Green who has passed it on to "The War Cry": "The Comrade, Gunner H. A. Burroughs, says:

"The Salvation Army Hut in Kinnel Camp, North Wales, which since November last has been used as a Canadian Concentration Camp for Canadian troops prior to their departure to Canada, has been the scene of some very happy and soul-strengthening times."

"The Hut is in charge of Adjutant Mary Smith and Captain Esther Haworth, who are both very devoted to the work. Many a lad when in trouble, has been blessed and helped along the way by their kind words and helpful advice. Just the other day Brigadier Tom Plant spent the week-end with us. He conducted the services all day Sunday with great success and our musical treat gave the boys a real musical treat."

"Meetings are held in the Hut every Tuesday and Friday evening, also on Sunday afternoons, and a length of the week-end. March 16th, saw six lads kneeling at the Mercy Seat, who decided to live a Christian Life and serve Him with this terrible conflict. Every Sunday afternoon the Officers provide a tea for all Salvationists in the Camp. Last Saturday night were present: Salvationists from all parts of Canada."

"The Army's efforts here are greatly appreciated by the boys, and during the week last week a great riot which took place two weeks ago, during which five were killed and several injured. Nearly all the boys were brought in and looted. After this some fellow shouted out, 'Now for the Salvation Army Huts,' but then from a hundred voices came a bright cheer alone, we will not touch the Salvation Army Huts." The day following the boys spoke very highly of the officers, and called for three cheers, when being addressed by the General in charge of the Camp. The next day the General called on the officers and the Officers on behalf of the men of the camp for their interest and for the grand work the Salvation Army was doing to help them."

The authorities, regularly visit every jail in the Netherlands. There are 120,000 prisoners in the Kingdom, officers and employees. The Social Institutions number 42. Colonel Howard is the Territorial Commander.

GERMANY

The Army's operations in this country have largely continued to this date despite the stress of the war. The Officers have been working assiduously in various capacities, such as Chaplains, visiting men and in relieving distress in the most needy localities.

SWITZERLAND AND ITALY

For Army purposes the Kingdom of Italy and the Republic of Switzerland are united as one Territorial command under Commissioner Luigi Rogliatti. The Army undertook heavy responsibilities in connection with refugees after the outbreak of the war in both countries and much good work was done. A Meuth Hotel in Rome is serving a most successful work in relieving poverty, girls and several homes for children are also in operation. There are 300 Corps and 100 Outposts in Switzerland and 14 in Italy.

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

of a great occasion—40 or 50 men all trying to dictate at one time was put into this report document. There had been a great hunt to find paper, and it would have been the hunter hunt still to find a pencil, only the boy carrying in a hidden pocket. At last the dictation could get to business and slowly, painfully, under a heavy cross, as so much dictating, the boy at last got the letter finished. The pointed out to the headman where he had put his mark, under which he himself wrote from a dictation, the headman, and proudly signed his own name at the bottom.

What makes it so trying is that all food is away up to twice the price it ever was in any famine I have seen here, and it is so high that the ordinary wages received are not enough for the support of the family. Any coolie can eat all he can, even when he gets paid, but the wages are so low that he must eat for days but the rude jungle larder, a kind of berry that grows on the hillside here that is nearly all stone. This stone, however, they pound between two stones and then swallow it, at least helps to fill up the stomach, but means a gradual loss of all strength. The next three or four months are going to be the most trying we have ever seen in this land of continued poverty and stress."

FARMERETTES NEEDED

CALLS are coming from the farm-fruit growers for girls to help them in cultivating and weeding the crop this year. They will be needed for the early spring, and if they are not forthcoming much valuable produce will be wasted.

The day when the farmer laughs at the farmerettes of the past, they are only too anxious to get them now, and call this year seems to be more urgent than ever for girls on the land.

Anyone wishing information as to where workers are needed and what wages to expect may apply to the Director of Women's Farm Work, Ontario Government Employment Bureau, 45 King Street West, Toronto.

KEEP UP THE CAMPAIGN

THERE is still need for those who have the courage to stand up and keep up their efforts at food production. City folks with back-gardens should not let their enthusiasm for raising vegetable crops die out, now that the urgent need for feeding our armies has passed. There is evidently a great shortage of fresh vegetables in the cities, and all that can be done to overcome this should be done.

WESTVILLE

On April 20th, Ensign Merle farwelled from Westville. She had done good work in this place, especially during the influenza epidemic, and she nursed many sick folks.

DUTCH EAST INDIES

This Territory comprises the whole group of islands forming the Dutch East Indies with a total population of 150,000,000. The greater part in Java, Sumatra, Borneo and Celebes are the other chief islands. The Government is most sympathetic and the Army is held in high esteem. The devotion of the Officers among the leprosy patients, and the sympathy of the officers, have been assisted at the William Booth Hospital, Semarang. The work was extended to the leprosy patients, and the work has been led to Christ. Colonel Cunningham is the Territorial Commander.

KOREA

The Army commenced its work here in 1908 with some 100 men. There are now over 1,000 men with 102 Corps and Outposts. Each year there is a steady increase in the number of Catholics passing into the Training Camp at Seoul. The Army's campaign against opium is nothing short of amazing.

WHAT IS THE WORLD'S GREATEST PROBLEM?

THE NEED FOR LEGISLATION TO KEEP DOWN CANADA'S FIRE LOSS—DUTY OF ALL TO TAKE PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FIRE

IN view of the fact that a Fire Prevention Bill is now before the Canadian Parliament the following extracts from a pamphlet issued by the Ontario Fire Prevention League will be of interest. The intent of the Act above mentioned is to classify as offenders under the Criminal Code tenants, owners, or occupiers of buildings whose negligence or disobedience permits fires that would not have occurred had fire prevention laws been complied with. That is, all punishment may await any responsible person whose failure to obey fire laws leads to loss of life or property.

Need for Legislation

The need for such legislation will be evident from the facts given in the pamphlet referred to. It says: "The conservation of our resources, from destruction by fire, is now more imperative than ever."

"Unfettered fire is one of our worst enemies—it kills, devastates, and destroys in a ruthless manner. Aggressive action is needed. Everyone should co-operate in the work of Fire Prevention and help to be of a realization that they must be more careful about their 'habits.' Statistics regarding the cause of fires show that we are the most careless people on earth. We toil unceasingly to acquire comfortable and attractive homes, and yet cur are in the homes of the people; and worse still, it is the amazing fact that eight out of every ten of all the fires that occur are preventable."

"Carelessness, in doing the ordinary things about the house is the chief cause of a great many fires; and the most common cause of fires is the carelessness of the women, men, women and children appear to be equally culpable."

The intent of the Act above mentioned is to classify as offenders under the Criminal Code tenants, owners, or occupiers of buildings whose negligence or disobedience permits fires that would not have occurred had fire prevention laws been complied with. That is, all punishment may await any responsible person whose failure to obey fire laws leads to loss of life or property.

Need for Legislation

The need for such legislation will be evident from the facts given in the pamphlet referred to. It says: "The conservation of our resources, from destruction by fire, is now more imperative than ever."

"Unfettered fire is one of our worst enemies—it kills, devastates, and destroys in a ruthless manner. Aggressive action is needed. Everyone should co-operate in the work of Fire Prevention and help to be of a realization that they must be more careful about their 'habits.' Statistics regarding the cause of fires show that we are the most careless people on earth. We toil unceasingly to acquire comfortable and attractive homes, and yet cur are in the homes of the people; and worse still, it is the amazing fact that eight out of every ten of all the fires that occur are preventable."

"Carelessness, in doing the ordinary things about the house is the chief cause of a great many fires; and the most common cause of fires is the carelessness of the women, men, women and children appear to be equally culpable."

"While 'Cleanliness is next to Godliness' the Prevention of Fire is our habits that first need correction. The change in our mode of life is one of the serious problems of this new century. We

SELLING HORSES

SINCE the armistice was signed, 6,250 surplus army horses have been sold in the United Kingdom at an average price of $85. In the same period 1,478 mules have brought an average of $85. The highest prices for demobilization horses were realized in the United States. Despite the continual selling, prices are rising rapidly, probably because only sound, useful working horses have been brought from France."

A LATE SPRING

REPORTS received by the Department of Agriculture show that the spring in all parts of the Province are greatly behind previous seasons. Seed growers declare that the latest spring for fifteen years.

SUGAR BEET INDUSTRY

Sugar beet industry has been very busy in the last few days. There will likely be a large crop this year.

WHAT IS THE WORLD'S GREATEST PROBLEM?

THE NEED FOR LEGISLATION TO KEEP DOWN CANADA'S FIRE LOSS—DUTY OF ALL TO TAKE PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FIRE

IN view of the fact that a Fire Prevention Bill is now before the Canadian Parliament the following extracts from a pamphlet issued by the Ontario Fire Prevention League will be of interest. The intent of the Act above mentioned is to classify as offenders under the Criminal Code tenants, owners, or occupiers of buildings whose negligence or disobedience permits fires that would not have occurred had fire prevention laws been complied with. That is, all punishment may await any responsible person whose failure to obey fire laws leads to loss of life or property.

SONGS OF SALVATION

A GOOD SOLO

Time—Joan of Arc.

Wonderful Saviour coming from Heaven.

How great His love was to me;
 Leaving His glory to tell the story,
 That He would die on a tree;
 Oh, what condescension that act must have been,
 As He told about that scene.

Chorus.

Calvary—Calvary.

Where my Lord sacrificed for us all,
 It was there my burden rolled away;
 It was there my night was changed to day;

Calvary—Calvary.

'Twas Thy fountain cleansed my soul;
 From earth to heaven I'll sing this song.

That Thy blood washed and made me whole.

Wonderful Saviour bringing Salvation

For I was drowning in sin,
 No one could help me, no one could save me,
 As I had wandered from Him;
 From the depths He brought me,
 just to make me clean,
 Then I plunged into that stream.

Wonderful Saviour, He never leaves me

Always abides by my side,

UNITED SICK

On Easter morning to Cheer Them
 With Music and Song

A large audience gathered in the Regina Citadel on Good Friday evening to witness a lantern display conducted by Brigadier Combs. Most of the views illustrated incidents in the life of our Lord. The Songsters assisted by singing appropriate pieces, including a solo by Songster Leader Payne entitled "The Crucifixion" and suitable Scripture passages were read as the views were thrown on the screen.

Easter Sunday was a very full day. The Band paraded the chief streets of the city early in the morning. The Songster Brigade visited the Home of Incurables at 8 a.m. and sang to the inmates. Later the

When Satan tempts me and tries to get me,
 Jesus is near as my guide,
 You can have this cleansing if you feel unclean,
 Come to Christ and sing this theme.

(Composed by—Private P. S. Ratcliffe.)

COME, YE DISCONSOLATE

Time—"Hark, Hark, My Soul!"
 236; "Russia," B. J., 161; S. B., 47.

Come, ye disconsolate, where'er you languish.

Come, at the mercy-seat fervently kneel:

Here bring your wounded hearts,
 here tell your anguish,
 Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal.

Here dwells the Father: love's waters are streaming Forth from the Throne of God, plentiful and pure.

Come to His temple for mercy redeeming:

Earth has no sorrow that He cannot cure.

Here waits the Saviour, all gentle and loving.

Ready to meet us, His grace to reveal:

On Him cast the burden, trustfully coming;
 Earth has no sorrow that Christ cannot heal.

Band arrived and played Easter music outside. The day's services were conducted by Brigadier Combs and were well attended.

Three knelt at the Penitent Form in the Holiness meeting. In the evening the Brigadier's appeal was opened by the reading of the Psalmist's prophecies concerning the crucifixion: "Sister Mrs. Boyle led in prayer." Reference was made to missing Comrades this Easter, also to those who were with us after long absence, and Sister Mrs. Gascoigne and Bandsman Bert Simons testified to the faithfulness of God and to His keeping power.

The Monday night Praise meeting was in the hands of the Young People and the presence of God was certainly felt. To the appeal for full surrender made by Envoys Peacock and Young People came forward to the Penitent Form—M. B.
